Saltzman Improvement update

by Vicky Siah, CMN student intern, and Virginia Bruce

Final meeting Wednesday, November 4, 5:30-7:30 pm, join via zoom

Washington County engaged JLA Public Involvement to manage a community discussion on alternatives for improving the northern end of Saltzman Road. The third meeting of the Saltzman Road Public Advisory Committee (PAC) was held on October 22, 2020. Time was allotted for public comment, PAC member Asif Rahman's presentation, design review, and PAC discussion.

Andrew Paul, grandson of Odus and Lillian Bales (Bales Thriftway's founders), provided his statement at the start of the meeting: if the county proceeds with the Eastern alignment, his house is set for demolition. Paul argues that the mid-century house is a historic part of the community. The impact each alignment has upon residents and the environment remains a key point of consideration.

Asif Rahman, representing the Bethany Neighborhood Coalition (BNC), highlighted the goals and challenges of past meetings. Cost and time have been primary sources of debate during the August and September meetings, as planning refinements unveiled new expenses.

To address costs, the BNC favors the implementation of a Western alignment using a "Pre-fabricated Elements Bridge System (PEBS)." This option would utilize a geosynthetic reinforced soil integrated bridge system to create a stable surface. To address the length of the span, BNC recommends that this proposed bridge be constructed in three prefabricated sections. Rahman asserts that the finished product will be ODOT-compliant and would be much less expensive to implement.

There is significant pushback by the Washington County Land Use & Transportation (LUT) engineering staff against the BNC suggestion. A link to Rahman's presentation is included on the Washington County website here.

If the western alignment is chosen, it could eventually be extended to Springville (pink line). That would require changes in the Metro Rural Reserve designation for that part of Multnomah County. It's a long-term option but one that many would like to see kept open.

Development News

Target proposes store in former Bales building

Target is proposing to locate a small-format retail store in the building that previously housed Bales Marketplace, at 12675 NW Cornell.

They attended a pre-application meeting with Washington County Land Use (LUT) on October 13, and were told the proposal would be handled as a Type I development since it is a replacement of an existing permitted use.

Type I applications do not require public hearings or neighborhood meetings, but Target decided to hold a neighborhood meeting to gather community feedback. The meeting was held online on October 26. It was well-attended by community members, who expressed concerns about traffic, parking, and competition with existing businesses in the area.

Target explained that the store would include a CVS-managed pharmacy, even though a full-size CVS is going in across the street. It would have limited grocery, housewares, toys, clothing, and other retail, and a Starbucks. Several attendees asked about the possibility of a contract Post Office to replace the one lost when the old store closed, but Target said they don't have a relationship with the PO.

During the "pre-app" meeting, LUT told Target and the building owner (Bales-Findley Property

Target doesn't plan to change much about the exterior, but they are using their colors and branding to define the facade. The covered patio that used to be the garden center would not be part of the Target store.

Management) that a condition of approval of the application would be closing the left-turn from Cornell, because it is located within the eastbound left-turn lane on Cornell (to Saltzman). They are concerned that traffic stacks up at the left-turn and contributes to congestion on Cornell. The right-in and right-out accesses to Cornell Road could remain as interim access. This would leave the center with very limited access, and it's unclear whether Target will proceed if a solution can't be found for auto access to the parking areas.

Bales-Findley is working with LUT to try to find a solution. In the original Town Center plans, Barnes Road was supposed to be extended across Cornell to Dogwood, past the store. When the county approved the Shell station expansion, that became impossible because it

Visit the online West Union/Thompson roads construction kickoff

Through Sunday, November 8, online here

The $1.2 million project, funded by the Urban Road Maintenance District \(URMD\), involves completion of sidewalk gaps on the north side of West Union/Thompson roads, between Bronson Creek Drive and 153rd Terrace, and a segment of sidewalk on the south side of West Union Road, connecting to 148th place. ADA-compliant ramps, waterline relocation and installation of stormwater drainage and a streetlight are also included in this project.

All right-of-way has been acquired. Construction is scheduled to begin in November, with completion anticipated by April 30, 2021. Intermittent weekday lane closures, between 9 am-3:30

"Drive-thru Diner" at The Ackerly

Wednesday, November 11, 4 pm, RSVP required

Locals 55 and older are invited to drive up for a free dinner, prepared by the Ackerly chef. You'll also be able to learn more about The Ackerly senior living center. Choose from a chicken or fish entrée, sides, and dessert!

The first 20 people to RSVP will be treated to this great deal! Call 503-350-3400 to RSVP!

Jim & Patty's at Forest Heights

[from a NextDoor post]
Hello Neighbors, I wanted to provide an update on our new cafe. First, we apologize for the slow pace. We have a full design and a great architect and contracting team in place. The permitting process is slower than expected. That said, we realize the Portland city staff and process is limited due to Covid-19 and we are all working through these crazy times together.

We're going to use as much of the existing infrastructure as possible. Our development budget is different than that of the Green Goddess! However, we're excited about what we have put together—especially the grill and hood that will allow us to offer our full food menu. You'll also notice a different color scheme—including a bit of tie dye! We've also begun to assemble a staff, including a fantastic manager (Bryan) who was once part of our Coffee People enterprise. He's excited to be back and to be a part of this community.

We'll provide more updates as we go. Given that we are excited to begin getting to know everyone, we may just occasionally set up an outdoor table or two with just coffee and some pastries. We'll let you know if/when we do that.

New round of small business grants from Washington County

On November 2, Washington County will release another round of small business grant funds, for businesses negatively impacted by the COVID-19 virus. The funding is available county-wide—in cities as well as unincorporated areas within the County.

Eligible businesses may receive up to $10,000 in grant funds, based on factors such as whether the business was closed (or remains closed) under Executive Order, whether the business has received prior funding assistance, remaining available funding, and other factors.

Interested parties should apply between November 2 and November 16. To apply, or to learn more information about assistance to businesses impacted by the pandemic, please go to the County's business assistance website.

Welcome to your extra set of hands: Juggle Source

We often wonder where the time has gone, how we'll accomplish everything that's expected of us, or if we'll ever be able to do the things we desire. Whether it's daily demands, personal goals, or unexpected events—a pandemic and new social responsibility of political activism come to mind—it's a juggle of the have-tos and the want-tos. Especially in a "we can do it all" culture.

Juggle Source will give you the relief you need. Juggle Source partners with its customers who are juggling too much, or just need an extra set of hands. If you find yourself running out of time to complete the things you want to achieve, Juggle Source can help. Whether you've got company coming into town, a fundraiser that needs extra help, or a business that is shorthanded for an event or project, Juggle Source would like to partner with you to achieve your goals and deadlines.

If you'd like to know more about what Juggle Source can do for you, and see what my customers have to say about the ways I've helped them, visit my website at jugglesourcecell.com. I can also be found on Facebook and Instagram under Juggle Source.

Parks News
THPRD Vision Action Plan adopted

In fall 2018, THPRD set out to connect with those who value our services, parks, recreation areas, natural spaces, and more. To better plan for a proactive park district that meets all needs equitably, we recognized the need to conduct an inclusive, intentional, and multicultural community visioning process.

THPRD committed to prioritizing Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access in all aspects of this work. We sought to examine our assumptions and better understand what communities today need and how best to serve the expanding interests of our long-term, new, and future residents.

The district is now proud to present the outcome of this nearly two-year co-produced effort: the THPRD Vision Action Plan. The information in the plan is intended to be useful to many audiences. To that end, the content is community-driven, validated by the responses to a public survey, and confirmed through the work of cross-disciplinary inclusive committees.

Thank you to the thousands of THPRD community members whose ideas and creativity helped inform this Vision Action Plan!

Leaders of the Washington County CPO system voted in October to present this year's Harold M. Haynes Citizen Involvement Award to the Visioning Committee. The Award will be presented during the Board of Commissioners meeting on November 17.

Community members invited to apply for THPRD Budget Committee

The Tualatin Hills Park & Recreation District is encouraging community members to apply for openings on the district's Budget Committee. There are two positions available. The deadline to submit applications is Monday, November 9.

People of all backgrounds and experience levels are encouraged to apply. These positions are critical to represent the broad perspectives of district patrons.

Background on the Budget Committee:

The Budget Committee is responsible for providing public oversight of budget preparations, recommending changes to the proposed budget, and supplying information to the public about district business and operations.

The Budget Committee meets at least three times per year to review the current year budget and operating results; discuss the proposed budget for the upcoming year; and approve the budget to be considered for adoption by the Board of Directors. Other meetings may be scheduled as the committee deems necessary.

The 10-member committee includes all five THPRD board members and five public members. Applications for the public positions will be reviewed and appointments made by the THPRD Board of Directors. New Budget Committee members will likely have their first meeting in February 2021, although the schedule is still being finalized.

Applications are available online here.

Metro Parks and Nature oversight committee

Applications for Metro's Parks and Nature oversight committee are being accepted through November 16. Between 13-17 people are needed to provide oversight of the $475 million 2019 parks and nature bond and $16 million from the annual parks and natural areas levy.

The independent committee will be appointed by the Metro Council to help keep Metro accountable and transparent in its use of both the bond and the capital funds. The Council is looking for people who love parks and natural spaces and who have a deep commitment to advancing racial equity, as well as finance, conservation, environmental law, tribal sovereignty and other knowledge.

The committee will review progress of the bond measure's goals and projects; ensure the refinement and implementation of the bond measure protects water quality and habitat and connecting people to nature; ensure projects fulfill the criteria of racial equity, community engagement and climate resilience; provide oversight on investments from the parks and natural areas local-option levy; and work with staff to develop outcomes to evaluate bond performance.

to bring back some joy and have communities come together like never before. This month, the Terra Linda neighborhood community is hoping to do just that by putting together their first ever Arts and Crafts Fair.

“The idea started brewing when local events like Crafty Wonderland and Open Studios went virtual due to Covid 19. A small group of neighbors decided we could organize a safe outdoor event that would both support local artists and crafters, and boost the neighborhood community that has grown stronger than ever during this hectic pandemic year.” said Michelle Williamson, Terra Linda resident and one of the event coordinators.

This is a great time to support local talent and to do some early holiday shopping, because there’s nothing more special than a handcrafted gift made right in your own community.

“We have fine artists, a wildlife photographer, a fused glass artist, a silver jeweler, a woodworker who builds snowmen and deer from branches, a block printer who does tote bags, cards and prints, and more,” Ms. Williamson adds. Who knew there could be so many creative and skilled people living right next door? Even students from Sunset High and Terra Linda Elementary are expected to showcase their own works of art!

And of course, there are some safety guidelines to keep guests and artists safe. All guests and artists are required to wear masks and socially-distance themselves. Each booth will provide hand sanitizer and faces masks for those who need it. The Arts and Crafts Fair prioritizes public safety and only aims to spread the holiday spirit and a sense of community.

Following Rahman's presentation, LUT planning partner Murraysmith's Terry Song led a walk-through of the alignment revisions. The design of the Eastern alignment has not been notably altered since September's meeting (at a cost of around $11 million), but the center turn lane on the Western alignment design is now removed to reduce the estimated cost from $21 million to $19 million. In addition to decreasing the lanes of the Western bridge, changes to the beam size, bridge girder height, and the width of the bridge deck have been implemented in the preliminary plan.

PAC members and others have also suggested that the bike and pedestrian lanes could be removed from the Western alignment and added to the existing Eastern alignment, which would remain if the Western alignment is chosen. At least one PAC member is suggesting that the existing alignment become a dead-end for cars, only leading to the two homes below the ridge on Saltzman.

Murraysmith affirms that the Eastern alignment has a greater impact on surrounding neighborhoods, and will include a complete closure of the road during parts of construction; however the Western alignment would require more time for permitting.

Several PAC members raised questions about water treatment. Rahman brought attention to the issue of water pipelines rupturing in Bauer Highlands. Song asserted that "the area is fairly flat so [we] can pipe to a different elevation." Stormwater management and other would ever extend to Springville or further north because it would cross a portion of Multnomah County's Rural Reserve. This article from 2007 discussed future plans for Saltzman.

Assuming that there are no unforeseen impacts by flood plains and other factors, the Saltzman Road realignment design will be completed by 2021 and bidding will be opened in 2022. Construction would be finished by 2023 for the Eastern alignment, and after considering time for additional review and bridge design, the Western alignment may take three to 12 months longer, assuming permits are approved by the US Army Corps Engineers, Department of State Lands, and Clean Water Services. At this stage of planning, Murraysmith can't provide an estimate of how long the road would be completely closed for the Eastern alignment, but the time frame for building the Eastern and Western roads are comparable. With either alignment, the road and bridge will be county-maintained.

THPRD representative Bruce

Barbarasch stated his position as "leaning towards endorsing the Eastern alignment" because of a smaller environmental footprint and the prospect for better park accessibility. The introduction of a new Western alignment results in more paved area, which he said would affect wildlife through habitat fragmentation, and increased road noise.

Trace Richard, the TVF&R representative, has no current preference towards the Eastern or Western alignment. "TVF&R has had a couple of close calls on the East alignment as it is right now, so any upgrade will be appreciated," Richard said. Regarding the road closures, TVF&R will be able to adapt as necessary.

CPO 7's Mary Manseau requested that, "quality of life" and "short/long term impacts" be added to alignment evaluation criteria. PAC members have already been asked to vote on their alignment choices. This recommendation will be sent to the County Board of Commissioners, who will make a final decision.

The next (and final) PAC meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, November 4, 2020 from 5:30-7:30 pm. The community is welcome to join the meeting and provide comments during the Zoom meeting. Visit the website for instructions. Comments can also be emailed to Washington County Senior Project Manager Ben Lively at ben\_lively@co.washington.or.us.

THPRD properties are outlined in green. The large parcel to the west is currently planned to be a natural area that will require extensive restoration after having been used as grazing pasture. The "NE Park" is steep along the banks of Ward Creek. The recently acquired "Su Property" has some flat land but it's unclear what the district plans for it.

water-related questions are likely to be further discussed at a later date.

In 2004, before the area north of Laidlaw was developed, the county embraced the idea of maintaining a corridor for an eventual extension of Saltzman north to Springville Road by adopting Ordinance 626, which was incorporated in the 2015 update to the county transportation plan. Only the Western alignment would make that practical since it would directly align with 130th. It's an open question whether the road

PCC Rock Creek's Experience Music Series

Tuesday, November 10, 1:30pm, online

Lee Alan Nolan: The Experience Music Series, presented by the Portland Community College Rock Creek campus Department of Music, will continue its series of live concerts for the Portland community with a performance by classical pianist Lee Alan Nolan in a live-streamed concert. Enjoy the concert by going to expmusic-series.com/youtube. The event will also feature a question and answer session with the artist post-performance. Nolan's concert will be available online until November 17

Nolan will perform a French inspired program titled Sacré Bleu, featuring works by Debussy, Satie, Ravel and Chopin. For more information, go to lealannolan.com/. There is no charge to view the concert, but donations to the series are gratefully accepted.

Thursday, December 1, 7:30 pm, online

Seffarine is a duo with soulful Moroccan singer Lamiae Naki and oud player and flamenco guitarist Nat Hulscamp, supported by master musicians of diverse cultures. They embrace and extend the rich legacy of Spanish flamenco, classical Persian music and American Jazz.

Their exciting performances masterfully combine explosive flamenco footwork, exotic instrumentation, and grooving basslines. These diverse backgrounds meld, creating what SoundRoots describes as "an ear-caressing blend of sounds from Spain and North Africa, spiced with a bit of fiery instrumentation and percussion."

Their CD, "De Fez a Jerez," is listed in the top 20 best world music releases by the Transglobal World

Music Charts, a panel of 43 world music experts. For more information, please visit the band's website: seffarine.com/.

Neighbors have expressed concern about the left-turn exit from the center onto Cornell eastbound. This was permitted by the county, with the caveat that if it presents safety problems "the applicant will be responsible for assuring the safe operation of the access driveway. This may require that the applicant install traffic control devices to limit turning movements and/or physical improvements to the roadway. All changes will be subject to Washington County approval. If the restrictions are unsuccessful the County reserves the right to further limit and/or close the access."

Cantata Pacifica: The Choir That Won't Quit

Community members were disappointed when PCC informed them they could no longer participate in choir at the Rock Creek campus due to budget cuts. That was the summer of 2018. Undeterred, eight of them decided to start their own independent choir and Cantata Pacifica was born. The choir grew to 30 singers over the next two years and performed at the United Church of Christ on Cedar Hills Blvd and Bethel Congregational in Beaverton.

Then in March 2020, the news that singing in choirs could spread coronavirus infections caused Cantata Pacifica to immediately suspend their rehearsals and performances. But there is a silver lining to the story. While participation in the choir was initially limited to those in the Portland Metro area, web-based rehearsals and performances have allowed more than 40 members to join their voices, from as far away as New York, Canada, Australia... and Seaside, Oregon.

Cantata Pacifica is now conducted virtually, but choir leadership is still local with its head office in Cedar Mill. Many members have professional music and singing background. Participation does not require an audition. The choir's Artistic Director, Pollyanna Moody, a soprano, has been a soloist with numerous groups including Light Opera of Portland, Oregon Symphony and the Oregon Repertory Singers. She gives individual piano and voice lessons and has led choirs since she was 18. David Rivas, the accompanist, teaches piano and is increasingly involved in online lessons and music video creation. Both have Master Degrees

Online Viva Village Book Club

Tuesday, November 24, 1-2:30 pm

Open to the public. Selected book is The Yellow House by Sarah M. Broom.

from Portland State University and as a team bring talent, performing experience and support to the Cantata Pacifica singers.

Citizens raising their voices in song can heal and unite communities. One member was reminded of the so-called Singing Revolution in eastern Europe that started in 1987. One million singers in Estonia achieved nonviolent change after raising their voices in song peacefully but persistently for five years. In the end, Estonians gained their freedom. There is hope that choirs around the world --such as Cantata Pacifica -- will continue to persevere.

Skyline Artisans Holiday Sale goes online

Due to the pandemic, our annual Skyline Grange Artisan Holiday Sale will be online only. There will not be an in-person sale at Skyline Grange this year. The Online Sale will continue for six weeks, giving you time to find perfect, locally made, handcrafted original works from artists of the Skyline community.

Visit the SGA web page to see a sampling of works by each participating artisan. On the web, you'll find info on how to contact each artist, place an order, arrange payment, and arrange pickup or delivery.

Artists include Rachael Brake (RCMB Ceramics), Claudia Mederos (Claudia Mederos Design), Libby Merwin, Miles Merwin & Grant Rolette (Oregon Heartwood), Ken Pincus (Pincus Pottery Studio), Nova Platt (Two of a Kind Earrings), Sue Selbie (Greenstitch), and Tim West (wooden bowls & vases).

Please register at tvcreates.org/networking

Family Caregiver Workshops

November is National Family Caregivers Month, and this fall, Washington County's Family Caregiver Conference will take place virtually for health and safety reasons. Instead of hosting this conference over a single day (as conducted for the past 16 years), the Heart, Humor and Hope Family Caregiver Virtual Learning Series will be offered in separate workshops that span several weeks.

"Of course, we are disappointed we can't hold our traditional in-person conference this year," said Shannon Baggerman, program coordinator with the Washington County Disability, Aging and Veteran Services Family Caregiving Program. "However, we hope this year's format might allow caregivers who normally wouldn't be able to spare an entire day to benefit from attending some of the workshops."

The workshops are intended for unpaid family and friend caregivers. Each free session will take place over Zoom, and registration is required. Visit co.washington.or.us/HHS/DAYS to register or call 503-846-3090 for more information.

Iva: The True Story Of Tokyo Rose

Wednesday, November 4, 6:30-7:30 pm, adults and teens, via Zoom, register here.

Iva Toguri was born in Los Angeles to Japanese immigrant parents. Trapped during a family visit to Japan during World War II, Iva was forced to do broadcasts for Radio Tokyo because of her American accent. Refusing to become a Japanese citizen, she stayed loyal to the U.S. and refused to participate in any propaganda broadcasts. After the war, she was falsely identified as Tokyo Rose, even though there was no woman who broadcast using that moniker.

The presidential election of 1948 was a time of racism against Japanese Americans and extreme politics. The Attorney General at that time, Tom Clark, decided to prosecute Iva in a national show trial where perjured testimony sealed her conviction. Sentenced to ten years and losing her citizenship, it was not until much later in her life that this travesty of justice was recognized and that she was pardoned. Local author Mike Weedall presents this little-known story of a courageous and patriotic woman who was betrayed by her government.

BSD Launches a Library Book Bus

Although students can't visit school libraries due to the COVID-19 pandemic, BSD's Library Book Bus is bringing books to neighborhoods! All BSD students (regular, option, and FLEX schools) with ID numbers can use these resources to supplement their learning environments.

These books should be returned in two weeks for elementary school students and in three weeks for middle and high school students. Book returns are conducted at the Library Book Bus, at school drop-off sites, or school curbside days.

Library Book Bus stops can be found at <https://www.beaverton.k12.or.us/departments/library-services/bsd-book-bus>.

Become an AVID eTutor

BSD is looking for AVID eTutors to help promote student success! These tutors will facilitate student discussion in AVID classes for one hour per week, working with them on core academic subjects.

BSD states, “Don't worry, you don't have to know anything about the subject. AVID tutors only ask questions to move students along their thinking process. Every AVID group is held via Zoom and includes students, two adult tutors, and one BSD AVID teacher. To get started, all potential eTutors have to do is complete a self-paced Canvas tutorial and attend a one-hour Zoom training.

For more information, please visit <https://www.beaverton.k12.or.us/departments/student-programs/avid>.

CWS Annual Leaf Disposal and Food Drive

Saturdays, November 7, 14, and 21, December 5 and 12, 9 am-3 pm

Prevent localized flooding around your home and in your neighborhood: Grab a rake, boots, gloves and a bin to collect leaves. Remove leaves, debris and garbage from streets and off storm drains. Clear your gutters and downspouts. Put leaves in your yard debris bin, compost pile, or "Leave Your Leaves," they make good mulch around your plants!

And remember, never stand on a storm drain or try to move it. If water is more than a few inches deep, give Clean Water Services a call at 503.547.8100.

You can also bring your leaves to the 28th Annual Leaf Disposal & Food Drive. We've quadrupled the number of events this year to help meet the community's needs.

Materials that can be disposed of include leaves, pine needles, and grass clippings—these compostable materials can be brought loose or in paper bags with a maximum weight of 50 pounds per bag. Clean Water Services asks that these leaves be from non-commercial residential areas.

Monetary and food donations for the Oregon Food Bank will also be collected at these drop-off sites. For a list of dates and locations, please visit cleanwaterservices.org/leaf.

Leap Into Learning

Clean Water Services provides a list of nature-based activities for young students to participate in! These are meant to supplement class work. Visit the website to discover this great resource.

agency Dispatch at 503-629-0111 or file a report through our new online reporting system at bit.ly/WCSO\_reporting. All eReport emergencies, including crimes in progress, should be reported to 911 immediately.

If you would like to learn more about crime prevention or your neighborhood is interested in establishing a Neighborhood Watch Program, contact your Sheriff's Office Community Outreach liaison, Brenda Schaffer, at 503-846-5578.

Don't be a victim!

Our neighborhoods are experiencing an increased number of property crimes including doorstep package thefts; prowlers searching for unlocked cars, sheds, garages and houses to enter and steal; breaking into community mail boxes, and thefts of catalytic converters from under cars parked curbside.

Your Washington County Sheriff's Office is dedicated to serving you. As a community member, there are steps that you can take to make your neighborhood unattractive to crime and decrease your chances of being a victim:

Make a habit of removing valuables from your vehicle and locking your vehicle. Park your vehicles in your garage if and when possible.

Have important mail, new credit cards, and important documents delivered to a secured location (such as the Post Office box) instead of your front mailbox or street corner community postal boxes. Thieves can pry these boxes open.

If you are expecting a package delivery, schedule these packages to arrive when you are at home (if able), or have a pre-designated person pick up those packages promptly after delivery. Another option is for your neighborhood community to begin offering a central location for delivery, open for residents to pick up packages when they're available.

Report all suspicious activity. You can report these to Non-Emer-
